Diana Butucariu is a ceramics artist from Bucharest currently living in Stockholm. After taking her master exam at Konstfack University of Arts, Crafts and Design she works as a ceramic artist, illustrator and graphic designer in various artistic projects both in Romania and Sweden.

Diana's works often are sculptural objects where different techniques from the craft fields are brought together. The diversity of the materials, textures and colors directs the senses, often citing a tangibility and mobility of the pieces. Her works invite the viewer into a dialogue about identity and cultural differences, traditions and social norms.
